要 旨
ネパールでは貧しい子供や女性がネパール国内の売春宿やインド・ネパール間のオプンポーダーを超えてインドの売春宿などに人身売買されている。被害者の大半が10歳以下であり、インドへの被害者が数年間、ネパールが20年間に及ぶと推測されている。
本稿はネパールにおいて商业的な性的搾取を目的として人身売買の被害者となった子どもや女性が、施設で受けるリハビリテーションに対するネパール政府の取り組みの現状を、非政府組織の取り組みと比較しながら考察することを目的とする。研究は文献調査から行い、ネパール政府の今後の課題を最後に述べる。

1. Introduction

ネパールの政府は、売春宿を禁止するための法律を制定したが、実効性が限定的である。ネパール国内の売春宿での児童売春は、主に10歳以下の子どもが売春宿に送られる。インドとの国際的な手荷物送り込みもあらゆる手段をとったが、効果は限定的である。そこで、ネパール政府は子どもたちの売春を防止するための取り組みを行っている。しかし、実効性が期待できないことから、政府はより効果的な取り組みが必要であると考えられる。

The diagram above illustrates the interplay between supply, intermediary, and demand factors. Each arrow indicates the direction of influence and interaction among these factors. Understanding these relationships is crucial for effective market analysis and strategic planning. For example, changes in market conditions (demand factors) can affect the availability of labor (supply factors), thereby impacting the overall performance of the intermediary sector. This interconnectedness highlights the necessity of a comprehensive approach to market management.
3. Efforts and Challenges of Rehabilitation Provision

The Nepali Government

The Nepali Government has taken various initiatives to enhance the rehabilitation provisions for people living with disabilities. This includes the establishment of rehabilitation centers, training programs, and various other efforts to improve the quality of services. The government has also been working on the development of policies and regulations to ensure better access to rehabilitation services for all persons with disabilities. However, there are still significant challenges in terms of access to rehabilitation services, particularly in rural and remote areas. The government has been working to address these challenges through various programs and interventions.

One of the major challenges in the provision of rehabilitation services is the lack of awareness among people with disabilities and their families. There is a need for increased awareness and education programs to inform more people about the availability and benefits of rehabilitation services. The government has been working to address this challenge through various awareness campaigns and outreach programs.

Another challenge is the lack of skilled personnel in the field of rehabilitation. There is a need for more rehabilitation professionals who can provide quality services. The government has been working to address this challenge by supporting the training and development of rehabilitation professionals. This includes providing scholarships for students pursuing rehabilitation-related courses and supporting the establishment of rehabilitation training institutions.

The government has also been working to address the accessibility challenges faced by people with disabilities in accessing rehabilitation services. This includes the development of accessible infrastructure and the provision of assistive devices.

Despite these challenges, the government has made significant progress in improving the provision of rehabilitation services. The government has been working to increase the number of rehabilitation centers and to provide more comprehensive services. 4. Conclusion

In conclusion, the successful implementation of a comprehensive strategy to combat human trafficking in South Asia would require a multi-disciplinary approach involving various stakeholders. These stakeholders include government agencies, non-governmental organizations, international organizations, and the private sector. The strategy should be focused on prevention, prosecution, protection, and reintegration. Prevention measures should target vulnerable populations and educate the public about the risks of human trafficking. Prosecution efforts should aim to arrest and prosecute traffickers and provide justice for the victims. Protection measures should ensure the safety and well-being of victims, while reintegration programs should help victims reintegrate into society. Collaboration and coordination among stakeholders are crucial to the success of such a strategy. It is essential to have strong political will and commitment from the governments involved.
